FAIR OPENS WITH FINE ATTENDANCE

Judging in Progress in All Departments—Petition for Good Roads Election.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Fredericksburg, Va., September 26.—The Rappahannock Valley Agricultural and Mechanical Society opened today its grounds here under the most favorable auspices. The attendance was excellent for the first day, which is usually more or less a preparatory day. The judging was progressing in all of the departments, but the awards will not be completed before Wednesday.

The array of side shows, amusement stands, lunch counters and confectionery places is larger than ever. The quality of the articles exhibited is perhaps better than ever before, and the exhibits in the ladies' department is the best of any former fair.

There is a great array of machinery and the fancy drills, fine riding and general manoeuvres of the troop of United States cavalrymen from Fort Meade, under command of Lieutenant Dean, was one of the most interesting features of the day.

The entries in the ladies' department at the fair this year are far larger than ever before in the history of the society. There are 1,500 entries in this department alone. A petition signed by a number of freeholders of Livingston District, in Spotsylvania county, has been presented to Judge R. H. L. Chichester, of the Circuit Court of Spotsylvania county, requesting that an election be ordered in that district on the question of issuing bonds for the permanent improvement of the public roads of the district. It is thought the election will be ordered for regular election day in November.

The contract has been awarded for one mile of permanent good road leading from the Stafford end of the Free Bridge to the top of Phillips Hill. This is intended as an object lesson for encouraging the sentiment in behalf of good roads, and it is expected that Stafford county will soon rank with the other progressive counties in the building of good roads.

D. I. Amidon, who disappeared from his home at Dumfries last spring, and left no trace as to his whereabouts, has been located in North Carolina. It is said that his mind became a blank until he found himself in North Carolina without means to pay his railroad fare home.

The regular German and dance for fair week, held annually by the young people of the city, will take place at Hotel Fredericksburg Wednesday night. A large number of visitors will be present in addition to the local people.

At a tournament given in Orange a few days ago the following knights were successful: Roy Hiner, first prize, a saddle. He crowned Miss Edna McDonald queen. James Hill, second prize, a bride. He crowned Miss Ellie Sanford first maid of honor. Roderick Cowherd, third prize, a pair of leggings. He crowned Miss Eugenia Wambles second maid of honor. Les Winslow, fourth prize, a pair of spurs. He crowned Miss Spicer third maid of honor. H. T. Holladay, Jr., of Rapidan, delivered the coronation address. A dance was given at the pavilion at night.

A tournament will be held at Urbanna, on the lower Rappahannock River, Friday afternoon next. J. Boyd Sears, of Mathews county, will deliver the charge to the knights. T. J. Downing, of Lancaster, will deliver the coronation address.

Results of Races.

The races at the Rappahannock Valley Fair here to-day resulted as follows:

Mule race—R. D. Payne, first; W. T. Descon, second.

Scrub race—Dr. C. W. Sale, first; W. E. Sinker, second.

Local race; half-mile dash; open only to horses in counties of Spotsylvania and Caroline; purse, $25—H. Simpson, first; Sneed Brothers, second; M. H. Willis, third.

WOULD TAKE BOOK TO TELL TROUBLES

Carrollville Lady Says She Laid Awake At Night Because of Her Troubles.

Carrollville, Ky.—Mrs. F. E. Cossey, of this town, says: "I had been afflicted for nearly six years with womanly troubles, and would suffer so much every month! It would take a book to tell what I have suffered in that time."

I got so I could not sleep at night from nervousness. I had four different doctors to treat me, but they could not help.

When I took Cardui it relieved me at once. I can't praise it enough.

I hardly know how to tell you what Cardui has done for me. I have taken about seven bottles, and nothing else I ever took gave me such relief.

All my friends know how bad I was, and how Cardui has helped me in many different ways."

Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients, which act particularly on the delicate womanly system, building up health and strength, where it is most needed.

During the past 50 years it has helped thousands of ladies afflicted with just such troubles as those from which Mrs. Cossey suffered.

It is, therefore, a remedy that you can feel confidence in. Its merit is guaranteed by years of success.

Don't experiment. Take Cardui.

Begin to-day.

GRIM MAN-HUNT IS CALLED OFF

Believed That Fugitive Either Has Escaped or That He Ended His Life.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Mathews, Va., September 26.—Late this afternoon, after an unsuccessful hunt, which has been in progress for an entire week, and which practically has covered every part of Mathews and large portions of adjoining counties, the men who have been in pursuit of the unidentified white man who attempted an assault on Miss Ella Miller, decided to call the chase off, and the members of the various posses returned to their homes. The attempt to assault Miss Miller was made last Tuesday afternoon, and within a few hours after the attack hundreds of armed men began the search, and it has been kept up almost continually since that time.

Hundreds of rumors have been traced to their source and scores of clues followed, and officials of nearby counties have been advised of the search and they, too, have been on the lookout for the man.

The final search, which has been in progress since Sunday morning, and which extended into Middlesex county, ended this afternoon, the men coming to the conclusion that the criminal either has effected his escape, or has ended his life.

After the report of the boat having been stolen from a fisherman on the Planketank River, the members of the posse believed that their search would be rewarded with success, as both banks of the river were patrolled during the night and day, and it was not thought possible for any one to have escaped through the net that had been drawn. But from the time of the disappearance of the boat until to-day, despite the fact that the contrary, not a sign either of the man or the boat has been seen. It is now thought probable that the fugitive, realizing that escape was impossible, and seeing that he could not reach land, decided to take his own life, and went down with it to a watery grave.

This grim man-hunt probably sets a record in this section of the State. It has been waged with a determination that was almost marvelous, and the weary men, practically without any rest or sleep continued the pursuit until it was believed almost certainly there was no chance of capturing the man.

Miss Miller continues to show wonderful nerve and strength, and her condition has greatly improved. Her mother also is better.

LOOD INVITED TO NEW MEXICO

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Appomattox, Va., September 26.—Congressman H. D. Flood who has recently returned from Washington following the adjournment of Congress during the past several days has numerous letters and telegrams requesting him to come to New Mexico, and spend several weeks in that State and Arizona in the interest of the recently enacted amendments relative to the statehood of the new State. On October 4, New Mexico will hold its first State Convention, and Mr. Flood has been especially requested to be present at this time.

Mr. Flood is chairman of the Committee of States and Territories, as such the admission of these two States into the Union is due more to him than to any one else. In fact, he is practically responsible for the admission of Arizona into the Union, and he also took the leading part in the fight for New Mexico statehood, and it is from this State that so many urgent requests have come.

On September 30, at Taos, will be held the great feast of St. Geronimo, which is the greatest day of the year amongst the Indians. Many thousands of people attend this festival, and it is at this feast that a great ovation is promised Mr. Flood, if he will attend, by the representative people of the new State. Mr. Flood has about decided to accept.

ONLY FOUR DEATHS FROM TYPHOID FEVER SINCE 1900

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Woodstock, Va., September 26.—From the records of the death list of Woodstock, carefully kept by Captain V. H. Crabb, an interesting fact has been learned concerning the number of deaths from typhoid fever since the installation of the gravity water system, which brings the supply of water from the Massanutten Mountains, east of the town. Since the installation of the plant in 1900 there have been four deaths from typhoid fever, while the year before there was a list of three deaths from the same cause. The water has been analyzed numerous times by government chemists, and has always been given a clean bill.

MAN DIDN'T KNOW GUN WAS LOADED

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lancaster, Va., September 26.—Sam Hogan and Norman Scott, two negroes, living near James Wharf, on Carter's Creek, indulged in "horse play" yesterday over a bucket of oysters that one of them had left at the cannery factory, where both of them had been working. Scott chased Hogan upstairs where Hogan seized a gun and threatened to shoot Scott. He continued to follow him, and when Scott started up the steps Hogan pointed the gun at him and pulled the trigger. The load struck Scott in the forehead, tearing off the top of his head and killing him instantly.

Hogan says he did not know the gun was loaded, and that the killing was accidental. The case was tried before Justice James, who fined Hogan $15 and sent him to jail for ten days for carelessly handling firearms. Hogan is sixty-three years old. The dead man was twenty-five years old, and had a wife.
